ABSTRACT

Data are based on information from the 15th annual survey of students enrolled for advanced degrees in the United States. The data were required as part of HEGIS in the fall of 1973. The report provides summaries by state, discipline specialty, institutional control and level. Sex of student, attendance status, individual institution, and level of enrollment are also included as variables. (MSE)

HIGHLIGHTS

Students Enrolled for Master's and Doctor's Degrees

Total enrollment in fall 1973 for master's and doctor's degrees rose to 908,101, a 5.8-percent increase over the 1972 figure. This rate of increase was more than twice that of 1971 (2.5 percent) and 1972 (2.7 percent). Much of the growth was accounted for by the increased enrollment of women. This rose to 362,103 and was 10.8 percent higher than in 1972 and 24.9 percent higher than in 1970. By contrast, the enrollment of men reached 545,998, an increase of 2.6 percent over 1972 and 3.8 percent over 1970.

Part-time enrollment rose to 508,790, an increase of 8.0 percent over 1972 and 14.8 percent over 1970. These rates of increase were considerably higher than those for full-time enrollment. This reached 399,311 in fall 1973, and was 3.1 percent higher than in 1972 and 7.0 percent higher than in 1970.

First-year enrollment in fall 1973 for master's and doctor's degrees rose to 561,860, an increase of 4.0 percent over 1972 and 6.4 percent over 1970. The proportion of first-year students to total students amounted to 61.9 percent in 1973, reflecting a decrease from 62.9 percent in 1972 and from 64.7 percent in 1970.

Students Enrolled for First-Professional Degrees in Selected Discipline Specialties

In 1973, 376 institutions representing 412 reporting units granted first-professional degrees in the selected discipline specialties, compared with 386 in 1972 and 362 in 1970.

Total enrollment in 1973 reached 208,395, an increase of 3.6 percent over that of 1972, and of 22.5 percent over that of 1970.

Increased enrollment of women accounted almost entirely for this 3.6 percent gain. Between 1972 and 1973, total enrollment of women for first-professional degrees increased by 32.7 percent while enrollment of men increased by 0.1 percent. Since 1970, women's enrollments have risen by 136.0 percent while those of men have gained 13.8 percent.

Enrollment of women amounted to 13.7 percent of the total in 1973, compared to 10.7 percent in 1972 and 7.1 percent in 1970.

The 1973 total enrollment of 74,605 first-year first-professional students represented an increase of 3.0 percent over 1972 and 17.9 percent over 1970.

First-year enrollment of men decreased between 1972 and 1973 by 1.3 percent, although the 1973 total was 6.3 percent higher than in 1970. By contrast, the enrollment of first-year women in 1973 was 29.8 percent higher than in 1972 and 150.2 percent higher than in 1970.

The proportion of first-year students to total students enrolled in these programs amounted to 35.8 percent in fall 1973. This compares with 36.0 percent in fall 1972 and 37.2 percent in 1970.

FOREWORD

This report is based on the 15th annual survey of Students Enrolled for Advanced Degrees (SEAD) in institutions of higher education in the United States. The National Center for Education Statistics acquired the data as part of the eighth annual Higher Education General Information Survey (HEGIS) in the fall of 1973.

The report provides summary data by State, discipline specialty, and institutional control and level. It is useful in projecting the future availability of highly trained manpower and helps to identify changes in the interests of students in graduate programs.

Institutional listings have not been printed this year. Readers who need such listings may order them from the Higher Education Surveys Branch, 400 Maryland Avenue, S.W., Washington, D. C. 20202.

It would be a lengthy task to give recognition to every individual who made this publication possible, but special thanks are due to Geneva C. Davis, Statistical Assistant, who maintained inventory control of forms and reviewed many tables for accuracy and completeness.

Generous cooperation from the college and university officials who supplied the institutional reports has made possible a 100-percent response rate to this survey; their continuing efforts and interest are deeply appreciated.

INTRODUCTION

Initiated in 1959, the Students Enrolled for Advanced Degrees survey was at first limited to the science, mathematics, and health-professions areas. It has been gradually broadened to cover more than 300 discipline specialties and is now designed to encompass the entire range of instructional programs in higher education.

This edition of its annual report presents summary enrollment tables by level of study, attendance status, sex of student, discipline specialty, State or other area, and institutional control and level. The basic tables use the "new" method of aggregation introduced in 1972. Tables using the "old" method have been retained in appendix A, which describes the differences between the two methods.

The 1973 survey instrument, with definitions and instructions to respondents, is reproduced in appendix B. The totals shown in the data cells on the facsimile form are those obtained for the aggregate United States.

The eighth annual HEGIS in 1973-74, which acquired these data for students enrolled for advanced degrees in fall 1973, continues to classify fields of study in accordance with a Taxonomy of Instructional Programs in Higher Education (OE-50064). Introduction of this new field-classification system, begun with the 1971 survey, means that any comparisons with data for years prior to 1971 should be made with extreme care.

CURRENT DATA AND TRENDS

Enrollments for Master's and Doctor's Degrees

Enrollments for master's and doctor's degrees for all levels combined (first-year students and students beyond the first year) increased 5.8 percent from 1972 to 1973 and by 11.3 percent from 1970 to 1973. The number of institutions enrolling candidates for these degrees increased from 808 in 1970 to 859 in 1973.

Table A clearly shows that the increases in enrollments for master's and doctor's degrees have been greatest for women and part-time students. Between 1970 and 1973, the percentage increase in women's total enrollment was more than six times that in men's. The rate of increase in total part-time students was more than twice that in full-time students. In 1970 women constituted 35.5 percent of total enrollment for master's and doctor's degrees and by 1973, 39.9 percent. In 1970, part-time enrollment made up 54.3 percent of the total enrollment for these degrees. This increased to 56.0 percent in 1973.

A similar pattern was true between 1972 and 1973: the numbers of women students and part-time students increased much more rapidly during that one year than did those of men students and full-time students. The numbers of men students increased by 2.6 percent in 1973 over 1972; those of women, 10.8 percent. Between 1972 and 1973, full-time enrollment increased by 3.1 percent, compared to an 8.0-percent increase in part-time enrollment.

Table B shows that first-year enrollments for master's and doctor's degrees increased by 6.4 percent between 1970 and 1973, and by 4.1 percent between 1972 and 1973. The patterns were similar to those for total enrollments: the numbers of women students and part-time students increased most rapidly. During the same period, the number of first-year men enrolled for master's and doctor's degrees actually declined by 3,748 (1.2 percent). An increase of 2,275 full-time men students (1.7 percent) was more than offset by a decrease of 6,023 part-time ones (3.4 percent).

By 1973, women students who in 1970 had accounted for 40.2 percent of the total first-year enrollments, accounted for 44.5 percent. In 1970 part-time enrollments made up 60.4 percent of total first-year enrollments. This increased to 60.8 percent in 1973.

Enrollments for First-Professional Degrees

In the fall of 1973, 208,395 students were enrolled in first-professional degree programs at all levels of study in the selected fields covered by this survey. This was an increase of 3.6 percent over 1972 and of 22.5 percent over 1970.

Table C details significant increases in enrollment of women both full- and part-time. Between 1972 and 1973, the number of full-time women students increased 33.2 percent and that of part-time women students 27.8 percent. In contrast, full-time men students in the same period increased by less than 1 percent: part-time men students decreased 5.4 percent.

Between 1970 and 1973 the number of men students enrolled for first-professional degrees increased by 13.8 percent while that of women students increased by 136.0 percent. Within this enrollment, numbers of full-time men students increased by 14.9 percent and full-time women students increased 140.2 percent. The number of part-time men students increased 2.1 percent while that of part-time women students increased 99.8 percent.

Table D shows that first-year enrollments for first-professional degrees in the selected discipline specialties increased by 3.0 percent over 1972 and by 17.9 percent over 1970. The patterns of change for first-year students are similar to those for all students. While the numbers of women students increased by 29.8 percent over 1972, those of men students decreased by 1.3 percent. The numbers of first-year women students increased by 150.2 percent over 1970 while first-year men students increased by 6.3 percent.

Between 1972 and 1973, the numbers of full-time first-year men students increased by 0.2 percent while those of full-time first-year women students increased by 31.2 percent. The numbers of part-time men students decreased by 15.3 percent over this period while those of part-time women students increased by 18.6 percent.

Between 1970 and 1973 the numbers of first-year full-time men students increased by 8.9 percent while those of comparable women students

SURVEY COVERAGE AND METHODOLOGY

Institutions Included

Data tabulations in this report are based on information furnished by 924 institutions representing 1,020 reporting units of higher education in the United States and outlying areas (aggregate United States).

In this report an institution may consist of one or more separately organized reporting units. For example, Southern Illinois University is a single institution composed of two reporting units: the campus at Carbondale and the campus at Edwardsville. (A central office of university system is not considered a reporting unit.)

The questionnaire "Students Enrolled for Advanced Degrees, Fall 1973"--part of HEGIS--was sent to all universities and other 4-year institutions in the National Center for Education Statistics' higher education survey universe for the 1973-74 academic year.[1] (The questionnaire and instructions to respondents are reproduced in appendix B.)

The 1,020 reporting units were the only ones known to be enrolling students for advanced degrees in fall 1973. Reporting units were as follows:

608 had enrollments for master's or doctor's degrees only.

341 had enrollments for first-professional degrees as well as for master's or doctor's degrees.

71 had enrollments for first-professional degrees only.

Tables showing candidates for master's or doctor's degrees are based on 949 reporting units; for first-professional degrees, on 412 reporting units.

[1] For a description of the higher education survey universe, see Fall Enrollment in Higher Education, 1973 (NCES 75-121). The Education Directory, Higher Education, 1972-73 (DHEW Pub. No. (OE) 73-11404) was the primary source for the list of units included in the survey universe, supplemented by any changes in fall 1973 known to the National Center for Education Statistics.

Students Included

This survey included all students enrolled in programs leading to a degree beyond the baccalaureate and covered the same student categories embraced by the 1972 survey. Part A of the survey questionnaire covered students studying for first-professional degrees in selected discipline specialties. Part B covered students enrolled for master's and doctor's degrees. (See the section on "Survey Coverage" on page 2 of the survey questionnaire, in appendix B, for a more detailed account of students to be included.)

Students Excluded

Student categories excluded from the survey were the same as for the fall 1972 survey, namely:

(1) Working for an advanced degree but not formally enrolled for the fall term.

(2) Enrolled in graduate-level curriculums or courses that would not terminate in an advanced degree.

(3) Designated as "special" and "unclassified" but not enrolled for an advanced degree.

(4) Pursuing postdoctoral work.

(5) Enrolled at a branch or extension center in a foreign country.

Student Classification

The 1973 survey, like that of 1972, classified students according to two enrollment levels: first-year students, and students beyond the first year. First-year students were those who had completed less than a full year of required study for an advanced degree; students beyond the first year were those at all other levels of an advanced-degree program.

The classification of enrollments by attendance status has remained unchanged in this year's publication. As in prior surveys, a full-time student was described as one whose academic load was at least 75 percent of the normal student workload (course work or other required activity) as defined by the institution. All students carrying less than 75 percent of the normal load were classified as part time.

Data Verification

To obtain complete and accurate data, the completed questionnaires were examined and analyzed. The analysis included review of respondents' compliance with NCES instructions. Data were further compared with available data that respondents had reported in previous surveys of students enrolled for advanced degrees. Institutional catalogs and other materials describing programs and criteria were checked. When appropriate, NCES contacted institutions by letter or telephone to obtain verification or revision of reported data. In some instances, when the number of enrollments reported in any area was significantly larger or smaller than the number reported in the previous survey year, institutions provided explanatory information.

The survey instructions requested institutions to classify enrollments for advanced degrees according to major field of study, and to do so as specifically as the lists of specialties in the broad discipline divisions permitted. For example, a student in educational psychology specializing in teaching the mentally retarded was to be reported under "Education of the mentally retarded (code 0810), rather than under the somewhat broader category of "Educational psychology" (code 0822) or the broadest possible category, "Education, general" (code 0801). In practice, however, institutions were able to report data only to the level of detail provided in their individual recordkeeping systems. For some individual institutional programs, therefore, readers may observe differences between the categorization they are familiar with and those shown in the institutional listings.

ORGANIZATION OF THE TABLES

This report contains 9 basic tables. Tables 3 through 8 are exactly parallel to tables 3 through 8 in the 1971 and 1972 reports. However, tables 1, 2, and 9 in this year's report use the "new" method of aggregation first introduced in the appendix tables in 1972. Otherwise, they correspond to tables 1, 2, and 10, respectively, in the 1971 and 1972 reports. Parallel tables (101, 102, and 109) using the "old" method of aggregation now are found in appendix A. Current NCES plans call for the 1973 report to be the last to aggregate data by the "old" method.

Tables 1 and 2 give overall summaries of 1973 advanced enrollments. Table 1 is restricted to candidates for master's and doctor's degrees and table 2 to candidates for first-professional degrees in selected discipline specialties. In these tables, data are presented separately for universities and for other 4-year institutions.

Classified as universities are institutions that emphasize graduate instruction, confer advanced degrees as well as bachelor's degrees in a variety of liberal arts fields, and have at least two professional schools that are not exclusively technological. Institutions offering 4 or more years of college-level work but not meeting these criteria for classification as universities, make up the "other 4-year" group.

Table 3 shows counts, by State, of candidates for master's and doctor's degrees; table 4 gives similar counts of candidates for first-professional degrees in selected discipline specialties; table 5 has counts by discipline for all advanced degrees; and table 6 presents additional detail on enrollments for master's and doctor's degrees in individual discipline specialties within the broad disciplines reported in table 5. Each of the foregoing six tables has separate counts by level of study (first-year students or students beyond the first year), sex of student, and attendance status (full-time or part-time). Table 7 is an institutional, by State, showing total enrollments for master's and doctor's degrees. Table 8 is similar to table 7, listing enrollments for first-professional degrees in selected specialties. Table 9 presents enrollments at the master's and doctor's levels, as well as at the first-professional level, by discipline division and specialty, for public and private institutions, with a separate breakdown by each type of institution and its control. Tables showing enrollments in each discipline specialty by individual institution are not being published this year.

In the discipline specialties of optometry, podiatry, law, and the theological professions, there is a split between enrollments for first-professional degrees and those with enrollments for master's and doctor's degrees. First-professional enrollments in these discipline specialties are clearly indicated, but the reader is cautioned that all except first-professional enrollments are included in these discipline specialties when they are shown in tabular presentations that display enrollments for master's and doctor's degrees.

In 1971 Students Enrolled for Advanced Degrees began classifying instructional programs in accordance with A Taxonomy of Instructional Programs in Higher Education (OE 50064). When comparing data in the reports for 1971, 1972, and 1973, with earlier years, the reader should consult the translation table for earned degrees conferred and adapt this table to the survey of students enrolled for advanced degrees. (This taxonomy and the translation table were reproduced in the 1971 edition of this publication.) Any such comparisons should be made with extreme care, as entirely new categories were added in 1971 and many others reclassified.

Appendix A

AN ALTERNATE METHOD OF AGGREGATION FOR BRANCHES

In academic year 1971-72, NCES began classifying the constituent units of all multi-campus and multi-institutional entities separately. This manner of classification made it possible, and mandatory for fall 1972, that the separate entities be surveyed individually. This is the second year in which data on Students Enrolled for Advanced Degrees have been collected in such manner.

Under this classification system each individual campus is coded one of six ways:

Code 1 - University (including only those branches classified at the university level);

Code 2 - Other 4-year institutions (including only those branches classified at the other 4-year level);

Code 3 - 2-year institution (including only its own branches);

Code 4 - 4-year branch of a university;

Code 5 - 2-year branch of a university;

Code 6 - 2-year branch of "other 4-year institution."

Using the "new" method of aggregation, employed in the main tables in this publication, reporting units aggregate as follows:

University = all those coded 1;

Other 4-year = all those coded 2 or 4;

2-year = all those coded 3, 5, or 6.

Using the "old" method of aggregation, employed in the appendix tables, reporting units aggregate as follows:

University = all those coded 1, 4, or 5;

Other 4-year = all those coded 2 and 6;

2-year = all those coded 3.

This publication deals only with enrollment for advanced degrees, and therefore certain categories of reporting units are not listed. Codes 3, 5, and 6 all relate to 2-year institutions, none of which show enrollment in this survey.

When applied to students enrolled for advanced degrees, the new method of aggregation tends to reduce the number of students shown as enrolled in universities and increase the number of those shown as enrolled in other 4-year institutions. Under the new method, 41,830 students enrolled in public institutions for the master's or doctor's degrees were reclassified from "enrolled in university" to "enrolled in other 4-year institutions." Similarly, 9,172 students in private institutions received the same reclassification. Of students enrolled for first-professional degees in public universities, 20,509 were shifted out of the "university" category into the "other 4-year institutions" and in the private institutions there was a parallel shift of 648 students.

The data presented in tables 1, 2, and 9 have been aggregated by the new method. Those wishing to see these data aggregated by the old method should consult tables 101, 102, and 109.

To simplify comparisons between the old method and the new method of aggregation, a consistent numbering system is used. In this publication each table which is aggregated by the old method has 100 added to the number used for the table aggregating the same data by the new method. The tables using the old method (101, 102, and 109) appear on the following pages.

DEFINITIONS

MULTI-CAMPUS INSTITUTION. An organization bearing a resemblance to an institutional system, but unequivocally designated as a single institution with either of two organizational structures: (1) an institution having two or more campuses responsible to a central administration (which central administration may or may not be located on one of the administratively equal campuses) or (2) an institution having a main campus with one or more branch campuses attached to it.

MAIN CAMPUS. In those institutions comprised of a main campus and one or more branch campuses, the main campus (sometimes called the parent institution) is usually the location of the core, primary, or most comprehensive program. Unless the institution-wide or central administrative office for such institutions is reported to be at a different location, the main campus is also the location of the central administrative office.

BRANCH CAMPUS. A campus of an institution of higher education which is organized on a relatively permanent basis (i.e., has a relatively permanent administration), which offers an organized program or programs of work of at least 2 years (as opposed to courses), and which is located in a community different from that in which its parent institution is located. To be considered in a community different from that of the parent institution, a branch shall be located beyond a reasonable commuting distance from the main campus of the parent institution.

INSTITUTIONAL SYSTEM. A complex of two or more institutions of higher education, each separately organized or independently complete, under the control or supervision of a single administrative body.

SURVEY COVERAGE

A. PURPOSE: The purpose of this survey is to ascertain the number of students enrolled this term for advanced degrees, the students' fields of specialization, and their progress toward their degrees.

B. SCOPE OF THE SURVEY: Except for question 1 at the end of the survey form, this is NOT a survey of all students taking graduate study, but of all students enrolled for degrees beyond the baccalaureate.

1. Students to be INCLUDED in the report:

   a. INCLUDE IN PART A students enrolled for first-professional degrees in programs which require at least 2 academic years of previous college work for entrance and which require a total of at least 6 academic years of college work for completion. For example, include students enrolled for first-professional degrees in Law (LL.B. or J.D.), Medicine (M.D.), etc. as specified on the form. Students enrolled for degrees beyond the first-professional in these fields should be reported in Part B.

   b. INCLUDE IN PART B all other students enrolled for master's degrees; for 6-year degrees such as Education Specialist (Ed.S.), Civil Engineer (C.E.), etc.; and for doctoral degrees (Ph.D., Ed.D., etc.).

2. Students to be EXCLUDED from this report:

   a. Students who, although known to be working on degree requirements, are not formally enrolled for study or dissertation this term.

   b. Students enrolled in graduate-level curriculums which lead to increased professional competence, but which do not terminate in an advanced degree. Students in certificate programs for school principals, for example, should be excluded.

   c. "Special" and "unclassified" students taking courses at the graduate or first-professional level, but not enrolled for degrees.

   d. Post-doctoral students.

   e. Students enrolled at a branch or extension center in a foreign country.

C. CLASSIFICATION OF MAJOR FIELDS OF STUDY: Classification of the major fields of study used in this survey has been presented in the following publication:

U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Office of Education, National Center for Educational Statistics. A Taxonomy of Instructional Programs in Higher Education. By Robert A. Huff and Marjorie O. Chandler, OE–50064–70.
Washington: U.S. Government Printing Office, 1970.
Price: $ .45.

D. EXHIBIT ITEMS:

First-time students in fall 1973. Report the number of students (in each discipline division) who have completed less than one full year of required graduate study and who enroll for an advanced degree for the first time in fall 1973. This number will be smaller than the total number of students in their first full year of required graduate study, because it is restricted to those in their first year who have not been enrolled for the advanced degree prior to the fall term 1973.

Doctoral candidates who have completed all but dissertation. Report the number of doctoral candidates who, as of the fall of 1973, have completed all course and other requirements for the degree except for the presentation and defense of the doctoral dissertation.

NOTE: Listings of data for individual institutions are regularly included in published reports of this survey.

See GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS and also the separate instructions provided for each of Parts A and B.

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

1. Time period. Report only those students enrolled as of the fall term of the current academic year (1973-74).

2. Institutional coverage. A separate report is requested from each branch or member of a system, as well as from each entirely independent institution and each "parent" institution. Please provide the information requested in item 6 on the cover page, which is intended to permit complete identification of the reporting unit. Do not include students enrolled by branches of your institution located in foreign countries.

3. Consultation on problems. If clarification of the definitions and instructions is needed, please consult the survey director, Mrs. Mary Evans Hooper, National Center for Educational Statistics, U. S. Office of Education, 400 Maryland Avenue, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20202. You may reach Mrs. Hooper by telephone: (202) 962-7301.

4. Returning forms. Completed report forms should be addressed: Attention: Room 2164-HEGIS, National Center for Educational Statistics, U.S. Office of Education, 400 Maryland Avenue, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20202.

5. Major changes. If the number of enrollments you report in any area is significantly larger or smaller than the number you reported last year, it will be most helpful if you will include explanatory notes on the form or on an accompanying sheet of paper. If students are enrolled in a discipline specialty new to your institution this year, please indicate this by circling the "line number" in column 3.

6. Please verify your entries and check all the addition before returning the form.

7. SEPARATE SPECIFIC INSTRUCTIONS ARE PROVIDED FOR PARTS A AND B.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PART A: STUDENTS ENROLLED FOR FIRST-PROFESSIONAL DEGREES IN SELECTED FIELDS

See also the statement of "Survey Coverage" and the "General Instructions" for the survey.

Part A is restricted to enrollments for the first-professional degree in each of the 8 professions listed there. A first-professional degree is defined herein as one which meets all three of the following criteria: (1) it signifies completion of the academic requirements to begin practice in the profession; (2) it is based on a program which requires at least 2 years of college work prior to entrance; and (3) a total of at least 6 academic years of college work is required to complete the degree program, including prior required college work plus the length of the professional curriculum itself.

The "Other" category is to be used only in the event that there are enrollments for first-professional degrees within the 8 professions other than those specifically named in connection with those professions.

For each of the 8 disciplines, degrees other than first-professional are to be reported in Part B. (See "Survey Coverage, paragraph B.)

In columns 4-7 report those students who have completed the previous college work (pre-professional training) required for admission to the professional school but who, prior to this term, had completed less than two semesters or three quarters of full-time study or the equivalent in part-time study in the professional school. Note that these students are identified by the amount of study completed prior to this term, rather than by the number of semesters or quarters in which they have been enrolled.

In columns 8-11 report students who have completed one or more years of required study. Report in these columns students who, prior to this term, had completed two semesters or three quarters or more of full-time study or the equivalent in part-time study for the professional degree.

Classification of enrollment by attendance status: A full-time student is one whose academic load in terms of course work or other activity (such as a thesis, research, or required teaching) is at least 75% of the load normally required of such students. Time spent by teaching fellows should be included only if such teaching is performed as a requirement for a degree. Employment which is not a part of the prescribed activity for an advanced degree or time spent on work required because of lack of undergraduate background should not be counted as time spent on academic requirements. A part-time student is one who is carrying an academic schedule of less than three-fourths the normal load.

New Fields: Please circle the line number (column 3) if you are reporting students enrolled in a discipline specialty new to your institution this year. (See "General Instructions," paragraph 5.)

Foreign Students: Please answer the question on foreign students at the end of Part A. Foreign students are defined as all foreign nationals studying at institutions of higher education in the United States, regardless of whether or not they plan to remain in the United States.

Add-Checks: Before submission, please verify that the TOTAL column (column 12) is the sum of columns 4-11 for each line entry. In addition, the TOTAL line (line 14) should show the sums of all entries in columns 4-12.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PART B. STUDENTS ENROLLED FOR MASTER'S AND HIGHER DEGREES, FALL 1973

See also the statement of "Survey Coverage" and the "General Instructions" for the survey.

1. TYPES OF ENROLLMENT. Report all students formally enrolled for degrees beyond the baccalaureate, except for those selected first-professional degrees specified in Part A. First-professional enrollments not reportable in Part A should be reported here. Also report in Part B all students formally enrolled in programs for degrees beyond the first-professional level.

2. GROUPING OF DISCIPLINES. The major fields of study to be reported here fall in the following discipline divisions:

0100	Agriculture and Natural Resources	1300	Home Economics
0200	Architecture and Environmental Design	1400	Law
0300	Area Studies	1500	Letters
0400	Biological Sciences	1600	Library Science
0500	Business and Management	1700	Mathematics
0600	Communications	1900	Physical Sciences
0700	Computer and Information Sciences	2000	Psychology
0800	Education	2100	Public Affairs and Services
0900	Engineering	2200	Social Sciences
1000	Fine and Applied Arts	2300	Theology
1100	Foreign Languages	4900	Interdisciplinary Studies
1200	Health Professions

3. SKIPPING INAPPLICABLE DISCIPLINES. Skip those discipline divisions which are inapplicable to the programs of your institution. Many registrars, for example, will skip one or more of the following: 0100; 1200; 2300.

4. CLASSIFICATION OF ENROLLMENT BY MAJOR FIELD OF STUDY.

   (a) Specific Classification. Classify enrollments as specifically as the list of specialties in the broad discipline divisions of the report form permits. For example, report enrollment for an advanced degree in an "accounting" curriculum as Accounting (0502), NOT in Business and commerce, general (0501).

   (b) Majors of Students Preparing to Teach. The general rule is to classify enrollments according to the major area of specialization. This means, in general, that majors of students preparing to teach an academic subject, such as English, biology, mathematics, or foreign languages, should be reported as appropriate in Letters, Biological Sciences, Mathematics, and Foreign Languages–NOT in Education. On the other hand, majors of students preparing to teach such special subjects as agriculture, art, music, etc. should be reported in Agricultural education (0899-1), Art education (0831), and Music education (0832).

   (c) Unlisted Fields of Study. When classifying a specialty which does not seem to fit into the list, the institution has two choices: (1) it can be listed by name under "other" if it represents an unlisted specialty, or (2) it can be placed in a "general" category if it covers several listed specialties.

   (d) General Majors. The term "general major" is used to designate diversified curriculums within an area of study. Ordinarily a general major should be reported in one of the general categories of the report form, such as Physical sciences, general (1901); Social sciences, general (2201); Humanities and social sciences (4903), etc. For example, a concentration in History-Government-Economics should be reported in Social sciences, general.

   (e) Interdisciplinary Studies. Code 4999 is for reporting fields of study which represent two or more broad discipline divisions; for example, Mass Communications, encompassing segments of psychology, education, business, journalism, social sciences, fine arts, etc., should be reported here. Specify the name of the interdisciplinary study when reporting in 4999.

5. CLASSIFICATION OF ENROLLMENT BY LEVEL OF STUDY.

   (a) Students who have completed less than one full year of required study for an advanced degree: Report in columns 4-7 those students who, prior to this term, had completed less than two semesters or three quarters of full-time graduate study or the equivalent in part-time study. Note that these students are identified by the amount of study completed prior to this term, rather than by the number of semesters or quarters in which they have been enrolled.

(b) Students who have completed one or more years of required study for an advanced degree: Report in columns 8-11 those students who, prior to this term, had completed two semesters or three quarters or more of full-time study or the equivalent in part-time study.

6. CLASSIFICATION OF ENROLLMENT BY ATTENDANCE STATUS. A full-time student is one whose academic load in terms of course work or other activity (such as a thesis, research, or required teaching) is at least 75% of the load normally required of such students. Time spent by teaching fellows should be included only if such teaching is performed as a requirement for a degree. Employment which is not a part of the prescribed activity for an advanced degree or time spent on work required because of lack of undergraduate background should not be counted as time spent on academic requirements. A part-time student is one who is carrying an academic schedule of less than three-fourths the normal load.

7. NEW FIELDS. Please circle the line number (column 3) if you are reporting students enrolled in a discipline specialty new to your institution this year. (See "General Instructions," paragraph 5.)

8. EXHIBIT ITEMS. In each discipline, please report counts, or give your best estimates, for "first-time students in fall 1973" and "doctoral candidates who have completed all but dissertation." Please see explanation in the section on "Survey Coverage," paragraph D.

9. ADDITIONAL QUESTIONS. Please answer questions 1 and 2 at the end of Part B.
Question 1 pertains to graduate students not otherwise included in this survey.
Question 2 asks how many of the students in the grand total for Part B are foreign students. Foreign students are defined as all foreign nationals studying at institutions of higher education in the United States, regardless of whether or not they plan to remain in the United States.

10. ADD-CHECKS. Before submission, please verify that the discipline totals add up to the grand total, and that the TOTAL column (column 12) is the sum of columns 4–11 for each line entry.
